INTRODUCTION

Music has always been a part of the heritage of the American Armed Forces, from Valley Forge to the Red River Valley of Vietnam. Music became an important part of the Air Force since its earliest days, and particularly in World War I. In those days, the U. S. Army Air Service had to "borrow" most of the songs from either the British or the Army ground forces or the Navy. Just before WW II, the Army Air Corps came into its own as far as music was concerned, and, of course, WW II brought forth all of the musical talent of the vastly expanded service--which became the U. S. Army Air Force in 1943.

Group singing is fun. It creates a comradery that transcends differences between people -- a great leveler. It loosens inhibitions and makes the "old fuddy-dud" into a real swinger. In keeping with the nostalgia of the occasion, the songs selected for the reunion sing-along are familiar tunes that were popular during WW II. Your sing-along maestro, Bill Getz, has included copies of the original pages from one of the early Air Force song books, AIR FORCE AIRS, published by the Air Force Aid Society in 1943 (with an introduction by General Hap Arnold). In most cases, the songs include the music score (piano) for those of you who play an instrument. To help some of us whose eyes are a little dimmer, the lyrics of some songs have also been reprinted in larger type. Enjoy.

(1) MY WILD IRISH ROSE

My wild Irish rose,
The sweetest flower that grows.
You may search everywhere,
But none can compare
With my wild Irish rose.

My wild Irish rose,
The dearest flower that grows,
And someday for my sake,
She may let me take,
The bloom from my wild Irish rose.

(2) MY WILD EYED CADET

(Tune: My Wild Irish Rose)

My wild eyed cadet,
He aint't learned nothing yet.
He noses her down,
When close to the ground,
My wild eyed cadet.

He slips in his banks,
If he lives we'll all give thanks,
I hear drums beating low,
And men marching slow,
Behind my wild eyed cadet.

COPILLOT'S LAMENT

(Tune: Sweet Betsy From Pike)

I'm the copilot, I sit on the right, I'm quick and courageous, and wonderfully bright.
My job is remembering what the Captain forgets,
I never talk back so I have no regrets.
I'm just a copilot and a long way from home.

I make out the flight plan and study
the weather,
I pull up the gear and standby to feather.
I clean out his mailbox and file his reports,
And I fly the old crate to the tune
of his snores.
I'm just a copilot and a long way from
home.

I make out the flight plan according to Hoyle,
I take all the readings, I check on the oil.
I hustle him out for the midnight alarm
I fly through the fog while he sleeps on my arm.
I'm just a copilot and a long way from
home.

I treat him to coffee, I buy him his cokes.
I laugh at his corn and his horrible jokes.
And once in awhile when his landings
are rusty,
I come thorough with, Yes, sireee, it sure is gusty.
I'm just a copilot and a long way from
home.

2. Our pilots do a lot of stunts
And do them well, of course;
And if you think that isn't hard,
Just try to loop a horse.
Our air mechanics have more brains
Than generals of the line,
But don't get sore, just join the corps,
And you will never mind.

CHORUS:

Never mind, never mind:
Come on and join the Air Corps,
And you will never mind.

3. Come on and get promoted
As high as you desire,
You're riding on the gravy train
When you're an army flyer.
But just when you're about to be
A general, you find
That your motors cough and your wings fall off
But you will never mind.

CHORUS.

4. You're flying ~~O'er~~ the ocean
And then ~~from~~ where you sit,
You see your prop come to a stop
Your engine it has quit.
You cannot swim, the ship won't float,
The shore is miles behind,
Oh, what a dish for the crabs and fish,
But you will never mind.

CHORUS.

5. You're flying on cross-country,
The fog comes all around;
There's ice at fifteen hundred feet
And snowdrifts on the ground.
You curse the day you learned to fly
With care your face is lined,
But you use your dome and bring her home,
And then you never mind.

CHORUS.

6. Come on and join the Air Corps
And think your skill is good,
Until you start blind flying tricks,
Beneath a canvas hood.
You fly her toward the mountains
With a lookout man behind,
He gives a shout and bails right out,
But you will never mind.

CHORUS.

7. They send you down to ——— Field
And keep you there for years,
And if you try to bellyache
They pin back both your ears.
Oh, ——— Field's a lousy place
As you will quickly find.
But I don't care, I'm leaving there,
And so I never mind.

CHORUS.

8. Come on and join the Air Corps
And never take a dare,
If someone bets there's any stunt
You can't do in the air.
Just show the boys how hot you are,
And while they stand behind,
You just be bold, while they grow old,
And they will never mind.

CHORUS.

FLIGHT SECTION W

(1) WALTZING MATILDA
(Tune: Original)

NOTE: A 19th Century, Australian bush song that almost became their National Anthem in the 1970's! It lost to another entry only because the words to the original song are so well-known and the story is about a "jolly swagman", which is a hobo in Australian slang! (Some say it means "robber"). Nevertheless, this haunting melody has been a favorite around the world, and no military song collection would be complete without it. There are a few differences from the versions in most of the Air Force songbooks, but this version is "pure Australian" and comes from neighbors of the Editor's, Alex and Ann Karas, with the Australian Consulate in San Francisco (1981).

Definitions:

Swagman: A hobo (robber?)
 Billabong: a water hole or stream
 Waltzing Matilda: carrying a bundle on a stick.
 Jumbuck: a small lamb.
 Tuckerbag: small bag.
 Coolibah tree: Eucalyptus tree
 Billy: stew
 Squatter: landowner - cattleman

WALTZING MATILDA

Once a jolly swagman camped by
 a billabong,
 Under the shade of a coolibah tree,
 And he sang as he sat and waited till his billy boiled,
 "Who'll come a-waltzing, Matilda
 with me?"

CHORUS (repeat after each verse)

"Waltzing Matilda, waltzing Matilda,
 Who'll come a-waltzing Matilda
 with me?"

And he sang as he watched and waited till his billy boiled,
 "Who'll come a-waltzing Matilda
 with me?"

Along came a jumbuck to drink at
 the billabong,
 Up jumped the swagman and grabbed him with glee.
 And he sang as he stuffed that jumbuck
 in his tuckerbag,
 "You'll come a-waltzing Matilda
 with me."

Up rode the squatter, mounted on his thoroughbred,
 Up rode the troopers, one, two, three:
 "Where's that jolly jumbuck you've got in your tuckerbag?
 You'll come a-waltzing Matilda with me."

Up jumped the swagman, sprang into
 the billabong.
 "You'll never take me alive", said he.
 And his ghost may be heard as you pass
 by that billabong,
 "Who'll come a-waltzing Matilda
 with me?"
