IT IS AS BAD AS YOU THINK AND THEY ARE
OUT TO GET YOU.

M.P. Hayes:
Humour our armour,
satire our attire

Cardiff, the men of MP Hayes are about to walk amongst you armed only with a keen wit, insatiable appetite for beer and the bodies of a god ... Buddha

Medical Fact:

Contrary to popular belief, playing an excessively violent and physically debilitating sport does not make rugby players stupid. This is a side-effect of talking to footballers.

More people are killed annually by donkeys than in airplane crashes.

What's the worst that could happen?

Artificial Intelligence is no match for Natural Stupidity.

BEWARE SARS
Severe Acute Rugby Syndrome begins with a desire to accompany groups of rugby players, shortly followed by casual and then more professional drinking. Other symptoms may include singing, an overall feeling of euphoria and unwillingness to sleep. Some people also experience mild mood swings (peaks and troughs). After 4 days, SARS patients may develop a reluctance to return home.

Soothers
(item of tour equipment),
CARRY AT ALL TIMES
Discretely.

Spaniarding:

Doing an Errol (Flynn); interfering with, and thereby jeopardising, the romantic advances of a tourist, usually with the intention of continuing same in his stead.

Homosexual behaviour: Effeminate behaviour or same gender foreplay / coupling. Whilst MP Hayes RFC respects the rights of people to exercise their love in public, tourists (to include backs) are asked to refrain from this activity. Rugby's a team game; failure to comply and you'll be playing with yourself.

Slicking

Congregating about a tourist buying a round with the intention of securing a drink at said tourists expense.

Conner Seasoned tourist i.e. taken with a pinch of salt. A true Time Lord who seems to get younger every year. H.G. Wells eat your heart out!

Kendo

MP Hayes living jigsaw, recently reconstructed, hopefully in the correct order this time? Apparently, the surgeon, a former plumber, had a few bits over after the operation.

Stalky (tourist)

Remember, DO NOT hold or return to a vodka'd Stalky but always retire a safe distance; pick a planet.

Herman (tourist)

Just say no to crack. Fitness coach. Inspirational 1/2 time speeches include 'if I can run around for another 40 minutes, anyone can, now pass me a beer'.

Y-Lo (Wide Load)
'Does my bum look big in this?' ...
What Wales? ....
Yes!

James Thorogood (tourist) rugged features honed by years of second-row action stand this compassionless character in good stead for touring. If he's too stay out late must have a note from his mum.

Tim (chins) Shallcrosss (Tourist)

Whatever you say, say it loud. Team somnambulist.

TOURISTS

Golf Ball Goldie (tourist)

Overly qualified player having recently passed his cycling proficiency test. Excessive studying has kept him away from beer, a problem he is seeking to address.

John Myles

Often wakes up with a stiff neck from swallowing Viagra too slowly. Always thinking of the hereafter ... in Cardiff often stops and asks himself 'what am I here after'.

Melvin Clarke

Generally stands next to John Myles in an attempt to make himself look younger and slimmer. Camera shy.

John Conway

Smiling as ever. 'Kiss my arse' for JC is not considered an insult by JC but an invite—you have been warned.

Bobby the Hamster (tourist)

the pitter-patter of tiny feet on tour is likely to be Booby scurrying to his room. Keep away from newspaper

Richard Barnard (Frenchie) tourist

Tourist extraordinaire; will do much to tour and keeps on touring ... even when everyone else has long gone. Break-falls with his ears

Allan Sampson (virgin)

I've had a close encounter of the twenty-second kind. That's when an alien spaceship disappears up your behind, I've got Directory Enquiries after less than forty rings. I've even heard a decent song by Paul McCartney's Wings, I've seen a flying pig. In a quite convincing wig, But I've never met a nice South African. (Spitting Image) WELL YOU HAVE NOW!

Ologist (tourist)

Bilingual; English and bollocks. Seen here in pre-tour training. Realised he was drunk when we saw him sober once.

Chunky (tourist)

He was trained in Hayes, to dispose of opposing teams, to win. To live off of the land. To eat what would make billy-goats puke. "They threw first beer. Not me".

Nick West (Virgin)

Apparently a bit of a toff, racing toward a mental breakdown and burnout. Ideal tour candidate.

Vanders (Virgin)

Here's one we made earlier; apparently better looking and more trendy than the original.

'Scouse' Mark Bolton (Tourist)

If it's not nailed down it's mine.

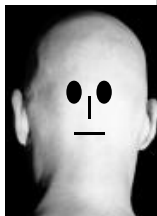

A bit antwackie occasionally bang on but not inclined toward the Kirby Kiss. Gerronwitcher.

Rob (tourist)

Dehydrated giant; just add water - don't believe us... try it. Young girls be warned; unlike a greyhound, he may not wait until the hares are out of the box.

Colin Cooper (virgin)

Thanks for the photo - not really got your head around the concept. Done our best with the likeness using Met' Police state of the art digital enhancement.

Forrest (tourist) Soft spoken - permanent slur. Life is like a box of chocolates; there are sensible people who read the inlay card and understand what the selected confectionary contains. And then there are morons.

Karl Dorow (virgin)

Mess with his head (still further), try to keep him from Rocky (see below)

Matt (Jesse) King

Would prefer to be touring in Amsterdam where he travels under the pseudonym 'Kid Captured'. If you can't catch him live, rent the DVD, available in brown paper bags near Jury's.

James Franklin (tourist)

Venturing from the nest alone this year to keep the average age of tourists down.

Graeme Ford (Virgin)

Puppy loving youngster ... bless. A queue forming for this one!

Yesterday, a friend was travelling on a Paris to London flight. A man of Arabic appearance got off the plane and my friend noticed that he had left his bag behind. She grabbed the bag and ran after him, caught up with him in the terminal and handed him back his bag. He was extremely grateful and reached into his bag which appeared to contain large bundles of money. He looked around to make sure nobody was looking and whispered "I can never repay your kindness, but I will try to....with a word of advice for you: Stay away from Wales". My friend was genuinely terrified. "Is there going to be an attack?" she asked him. No ... ", he whispered back.....

FIRST AID

ELECTROCUTION Is he/she still connected to the power supply? If so, SWITCH OFF THE POWER IMMEDIATELY. Electricity costs an absolute fortune. Check the victim's pulse (if you can find their wrist amongst the stack of charred bones and greasy, bubbling flesh that was once a human being). Try not to be squeamish about it.

BURNS AND SCALDS Run the affected area under cold tap water as soon as possible (if the victim's entire body is a swirling mass of flames, it may be a little too late for this). If the victim has spilt hot liquid over his/her clothes, then REMOVE CLOTHING IMMEDIATELY. You can never tell, the sight of you parading around naked may cheer them up and take their mind off their injury. Remind the victim that worse things happen at sea. Cite drowning as an example.

FRACTURES AND BROKEN LIMBS Check the injured area to see if the break or fracture has resulted in a tubular shard of shearing white bone jutting outwards through the bloody mass of flesh. If it has, then tell the victim that they are going to die. Tie a splint to the victim's leg and ask them to walk back and forth for a few minutes. They will probably fall down unconscious, making the rest of your job easier. Do not move the broken or fractured limb, as this may result in an abnormal position. However, if you're feeling daring, try pointing legs in the wrong direction, bending wrists through 180 degrees, etc. It really is amazing the number of fascinating contortions you can produce.

CHOKING ON FOOD Try to dislodge the article blocking the victim's windpipe by punching them hard in the stomach. Do remember to duck before the particles of food hit you in the eye. Call the waiter and ask for a 20 percent reduction on the bill. Make a note to order soup next time.

CUTS AND WOUNDS Try and limit the blood loss by tying a tourniquet tightly around the victim's throat until they experience difficulty in breathing. Only kidding. Tie the tourniquet just above the wound. Just my little joke. Stitch up the wound with aluminium wire. Caught you again?

OBJECTS STUCK IN VICTIM'S EYE Rinse the victim's eye in lukewarm water. DO NOT USE SOAP AS WELL, IDIOT. Offer to pick the object out of the victim's eye with your teeth. This usually results in the object mysteriously "going away" and not bothering the victim any more.

CONCUSSION When the victim comes around, ask them what day it is, who the President is, how many fingers you are holding up. To make it more difficult, hold the fingers up behind your back. Talk in Swahili to disorient the victim a bit more. Yes, there's a whole bundle of laughs when it comes to concussion. Here's a good one: before the victim comes around, switch off all the lights. When he/she regains consciousness, shout "Thank God! We thought you might be dead, or blinded or something."

DEPRESSION—A Case Study

George Carlton, a 47-year-old expatriate man from Kent, living in New York, was recently diagnosed as clinically depressed, tanked up on anti-depressants and scheduled for controversial electroshock therapy when doctors realised he wasn't depressed at all - only English. 'Not depressed, just English', read the newspaper article. Mr Carlton, whose characteristic pessimism and gloomy perspective were interpreted as serious clinical depression, was led on a nightmare journey through the American psychiatric system. Doctors described Mr Carlton as suffering from Pervasive Negative Anticipation (PNA) - a belief that everything will turn out for the worst. "The satisfaction Mr Carlton seemed to get from his pessimism seemed particularly pathological," reported the doctors. "They put me on everything, Lithium, Prozac, St John's Wort," said Mr Carlton. "They even told me to sit in front of a big light for an hour a day or I'd become suicidal. I kept telling them this was all pointless and they said it was exactly that sort of attitude that got me here in the first place." His doctors finally resorted to a course of "weapons-grade MDMA" (Ecstasy), the only noticeable effect of which was six hours of speedy repetitions of the phrase "mustn't grumble", and "not too bad, really!" It was then that Mr Carlton was referred to a psychotherapist. Dr. Hornsey, who explored Mr Carlton's family history and couldn't believe his ears. "His story of a childhood growing up in a grey little town where it rained every day, treeless streets of unheated, identical houses and passionately backing a football team which never won, seemed to be typical of depressive ideation, or false memory." Mr Carlton had 6 months of therapy but seemed to mainly want to talk about the weather - how miserable and cold it was in winter and later how difficult and hot it was in summer. "I felt he wasn't responding to therapy at all and so I recommended drastic action - namely ECT or shock treatment." "I was all strapped down on the table, and they were about to put the rubber bit in my mouth when the psychiatric nurse picked up on my accent," said Mr Carlton. "I remember her saying 'Oh my God, I think we're making a terrible mistake'." Nurse Sheen happened to be a big fan of British comedy shows broadcasts on PVS, and this gave her an understanding of the British Psyche. "Classic comedy characters like Tony Hancock, Albert Steptoe and Frank Spencer are all hopeless cases with no chance of ever doing well or escaping their circumstances," she explained to the baffled US medics. "The British find that funny, and it is not seen as pathological at all," she told them. Identifying Mr Carlton as English changed his diagnosis from 'clinical depression' to 'rather quaint and charming', and he was immediately discharged from hospital, with a selection of brightly coloured leaflets and an "I love New York" T-shirt.

"Ah, isn't that nice. The wife of the Cambridge president is kissing the cox of the Oxford crew." (Harry Carpenter at the Oxford-Cambridge boat race 1977)

"Morcelli has four fastest 1,500 m times ever. And all those times over 1,500 m." (David Coleman)

"Julian Dicks is everywhere. It's like they've got eleven Dicks on the field." (Metro Radio)

"Strangely, in slow motion replay, the ball seems to hang in the air for even longer." (David Acfield)

"What will you do when you leave football, Jack. Will you stay in football?" (Stuart Hall - Radio 5 live)

"And there goes Juantorena down the back straight, opening his legs and showing his class." (David Coleman at the Montreal Olympics)

"One of the reasons Arnie (Arnold Palmer) is playing so well is that, before each tee shot, his wife takes out his balls and kisses them..... Oh my God! What have I just said?!!!" (US PGA Commentator)

True story... a female news anchor who, the day after it was supposed to have snowed and didn't, turned to the weatherman and asked "So Bob, where's that 8 inches you promised me last night?" Not only did HE have to leave the set, but half the crew did too as they were laughing so hard!

RUGBY

Two backs at a fairground see the big wheel, one wants a go but his mate is too scared so he just stays on the ground and watches. Shortly after the ride has got under way there is a huge creak, then the whole big wheel collapses and falls to the ground. Scrambling through the twisted wreckage the panic stricken mate eventually finds his friend in the carnage. "Are you hurt?" he shouts. "Hurt? Hurt! Of course I'm f*cking HURT!! - I went round twice and you only waved once!"

I saw the white of her thighs as I pulled down her panties.

I saw the crystalline juice from last night on her pubes.

She was my Granny, distended fanny and wasted fallopian tubes.

Chorus

Why, why, why, my Granny, My, my, my, my Granny.

Eighty-four, an octogenarian whore, forgive me my Granny I just couldn't take any more.

Chomping away on my tool night and day I was happy.

With my meat in her gums she was content.

She got lockjaw,

I felt my hands round her throat and she sucked no more.

WORLD RECORDS!!

MOST SEMEN SWALLOWED: Michelle Monahan had 1.7 pints of semen pumped out of her stomach in Los Angeles in July 1991.

LONGEST PUBES: Maoni Vi of Cape Town has hair measuring 32 inches from the armpits and 28 inches from her vagina.

MOST CAVERNOUS CROTCH: Linda Manning of Los Angeles could, without preparation, completely insert a lubricated American football into her vagina.

ZITS: In July 1987, Carl Chadwick of Rugby, England, squeezed a zit and projected a detectable amount of yellow pus a distance of 7ft 1inch.

GREATEST DISTANCE ATTAINED FOR A JET OF SEMEN: Horst Schultz achieved 18 ft 9 in with a 'substantial' amount of seminal fluid. He also hold the records for the greatest height (12ft 4in) and the greatest speed of ejaculation, or muzzle velocity, with 42.7mph.

LONGEST TURD: The longest dump ever verified was produced by an American, who produced a 'staggering turd' over a period of 2 hr 12 mins which was officially measured at 12 ft 2in. The offender is banned from 134 washrooms in his state.

MOST PROLONGED FART: Bernard Clemmens of London managed to sustain a fart for an officially recorded time of 2 mins 42 seconds .

Cross-channel swimmers cover themselves in lard before starting their swim. However, this is not as widely believed to keep warm; it is to provide a constant snack supply during the trip.

Surfers say they 'wax' their board, but they do of course use lard not wax.

Dawn French eats lard. And nothing else. Allegedly.

Chips cooked in lard taste over a thousand times better than those cooked in namby-pamby oil.

Lard is high in fibre and low in cholesterol. But you know that already. Carol Vorderman disagrees!

Lard is a popular lubricant used in lovemaking and a handy alternative to soap.

As an alternative to poncy French cheese, sprinkle chives over a block of lard.

Idiot's guide to sex

IN & OUT (Repeat as often as possible)

A condominium is NOT the smallest size they make.

If she says "doggy style", then DO NOT whip down to the local R.S. P.C.A.

Doing the missionary position does not mean you have sex in a church.

If your stomach hurts it is not an orgasm, more likely indigestion or appendicitis.

A porn shop will not give you money for your used stuff, that's a pawn shop.

If your wife tells you sex is a 'pain in the ass,' turn her over.

A threesome does not mean letting the dog watch you use both hands.

Kama Sutra is not a martial art, therefore don't tell your lover that you have a black belt in it.

Well-endowed is not a reference to the size of your bank account.

Extract from the Latest Mills and Boon Novel with writing like this there really is no need for pictures...

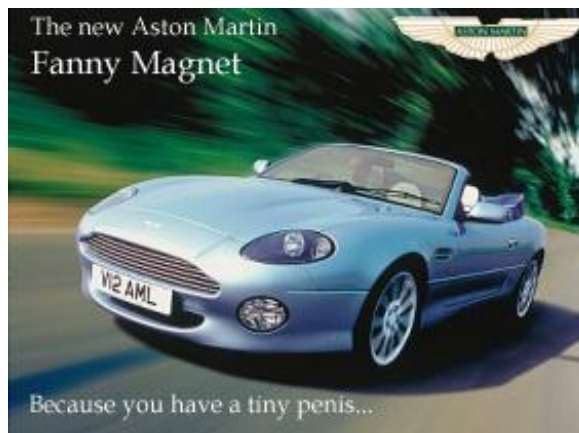

We met in a secluded field, the sun nearly kissing the evening horizon. The warm breeze was full of that earthy, musky scent that only those fortunate enough to live outside the urban rat race know, and a quiet whispering of leaves in the weeping willow overhead added the final touch to the most romantic scene. We lay there, both naked. I knew I had to have her, and have her now. Without a word being spoken, I moved to a position of dominance. I could feel instantly that this was what she was waiting for as she frantically thrust her pelvis at my approaching organ. I moved slowly at first, inch by inch, until I was fully inside her. Then as the tension rose, we threw caution to the wind and abandoned ourselves to the moment. Although inexperienced, she approached every change of position with enthusiasm, moaning with despair every time I withdrew to prevent myself ending it all too soon. As the sexual tension heightened towards the inevitable mind blowing climax, it was all I could do to hold out any longer. Finally, the moment we had been building up to was upon us, and passed all too quickly. Breathlessly we rolled together in the now damp grass. As the last deep orange glow of the long setting sun melted into the darkness of approaching night, we lay there still entwined in an amorous embrace. I kissed her long and lovingly, and whispered reassuringly how good she had been. She tenderly and sensuously licked my inner ear and whispered, 'Baaaaaaa' and rejoined the flock.

Warning - You piss us off:

1. People who point at their wrist while asking for the time....we know where our watch is pal, where the hell is yours? Do we point at my crotch when I ask where the toilet is?
2. People who are willing to get off their arse to search the entire room for the TV remote because they refuse to walk to the TV and change the channel manually.
3. When people say "Oh you just want to have your cake and eat it too". Too bloody right we do! What good is a cake if you can't eat it?
4. When people say "it's always the last place you look". Of course it is. Why the hell would you keep looking after you've found it? Do people do this? Who and where are they?
5. When people say while watching a film "did you see that?". No tosser, I paid £12 to come to the cinema and stare at the friggin' floor.
6. People who ask "Can I ask you a question?"..... Didn't really give us a choice there, did you?
7. When something is 'new and improved!'. Which is it? If it's new, then there has never been anything before it. If it's an improvement, it is not new.

BEER SCOOTER

Ever woken up in the morning after a night of drinking and thought 'How did I get home?'. As hard as you try, you cannot piece together your return journey from the bar to your home. You used a beer scooter!

The beer scooter is a mythical form of transport, owned and leased out to the drunk by Bacchus the Roman god of wine. Following the decrease in the worship of the Roman pantheon Bacchus has bought a large batch of these magical devices. The beer scooter works as follows: When the drinker's slurring gland begins to give off a pheromone, Bacchus or one of his many sub-contractors detects this and sends down a winged beer scooter. The scooter scoops up the passenger and deposits them in their bedroom.

It is not cheap to run a beer scooter franchise, so a large portion of the passenger's in-pocket cash is taken as payment. This answers another question after a night out 'How did I spend so much money?'. Beer scooters have a poor safety record and are thought to be responsible for 90% of all UDI (unidentified drinking injuries) e.g. often bruises and unexplained cuts, usually found on the legs and all over the body). Studies suggest that Beer Goggles may cause the scooter's navigation system to malfunction thus sending the passenger to the wrong bedroom often with interesting consequences.

Apocalyptic Horsemen Scandal Exposed

Amid rumours of worldwide Armageddon, police today revealed the results of a year-long probe into alleged sightings of the "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." Long feared by many as the actual living embodiments of Death, War, Famine and Disease, Sgt Harry Ramsbowtham of Scotland Yard told reporters the Four Horsemen were really just one actual person on a horse and three adolescents on pushbikes out for exercise on Common Road, Hayes.

Origin of Rugby uncovered in School papers

History tells us that Rugby Football was invented in 1823 when schoolboy William Webb-Ellis picked up the ball during a game of football and ran with it. Recently discovered scholl papers have revealed that his father, John Webb-Ellis, was games master at the school and was referee for the match. Webb-Ellis Jnr had tried this trick several times before, but had always been given a detention for cheating by other referees. This was the first time father and son had taken to the field together.

There has been no agreement reached on the official standard size for a rugby pitch. Wales have requested a pitch 1 yard wide by 100 yards long for their next international.

Apparently Cash strapped Rugby Club Llanelli have started selling their first team squad for sex in the local streets. So far the venture has raised the club £50.23.

Kick Off: When Rugby began over 150 years ago, the most popular way to decide which team kicked off was "scissors, paper, stone". This was given the name "fisting for play". 150 years later, the term is still in widespread use in rugby circles, though its definition has somewhat changed.

Rugby is for All. Unlike rowing and polo which are only for posh people. In Polo & Rowing, during pre-season selection, commoners are weeded out by the interspersal of etiquette and wealth based tests within the more traditional brute strength and athletic skill based assessments necessary to forge a strong rowing team. Such unscheduled vetting tests include successfully holding open the door for the lady coach, letting every body else in and/ or out of the boat house before you, wearing the correct shoes for every occasion and having a million pounds in cash stuffed down your skin-tight lycra rowing shorts.

In the beginning ...

Adam approaches God in the Garden of Eden.

Adam: "This garden is something else, but I'm lonely. How about a companion to spend my time with?"

God: "Tell you what. I'll create the most supportive creature in the universe who will love, honour, obey, cook, clean, and satisfy your carnal desires. In exchange though, you need to surrender your two big toes, right pinkie, left ear, one eye, and all your hair. Deal?"

Adam, uneasy: "Can I sleep on it?"

God: "Sure."

The next day Adam approaches God with a pensive look on his face.

God: "Have you decided?"

Adam: "Yep. What can I get for a rib?"

Why It's Great to be a Guy

The garage is all yours. Wedding plans take care of themselves. Chocolate is just another snack. You can wear a white T-shirt to a water park. Car mechanics tell you the truth. The world is your urinal. Same work, more pay. Wrinkles add character. People never stare at your chest when you're talking to them. New shoes don't cut, blister, or mangle your feet. One mood, ALL the time. A five-day vacation requires only one suitcase. You can open all your own jars. You can kill your own food. You get extra credit for the slightest act of thoughtfulness. You can quietly enjoy a car ride from the passenger seat. Three pairs of shoes are more than enough. You can quietly watch a game with your mate for hours without ever thinking: "He must be mad at me." If another guy shows up at the party in the same outfit, you just might become lifelong friends. You don't have to stop and think of which way to turn a nut on a bolt. You don't have to shave below your neck. You can do your nails with a pocket knife. You have freedom of choice concerning growing a moustache. You can go to the bathroom without a support group. You can sit with your knees apart no matter what you are wearing. If you retain water, it's in a canteen. You can take pride in breaking wind.

A blonde is terribly overweight, so her doctor put her on a diet. "I want you to eat regularly for 2 days, then skip a day, and repeat this procedure for 2 weeks. The next time I see you, you'll have lost at least 5 pounds."

When the blonde returned, she shocked the doctor by losing nearly 20 pounds.

"Why, that's amazing!" the doctor said, "Did you follow my instructions?"

The blonde nodded, "I'll tell you though, I thought I was going to drop dead that 3rd day."

"From hunger, you mean?" asked the doctor.

"No, from skipping."

15 Easy Steps to Shit like a Woman:

1. Under no circumstances, use any other toilet than your own, regardless of any stomach pain may be caused while waiting to get home.
2. With the toilet-brush, clean any residue left on the pot by your boyfriend/husband. Also, wipe his pubes off the seat with some toilet paper.
3. Flush the toilet twice before starting. Wash your hands three times.
4. Line the toilet seat with toilet paper (as other people may have sat on the toilet since it was last bleached).
5. Stuff toilet paper inside the bowl to prevent any splash back.
6. Pull panties down and sit. Some women may still prefer to squat (hover) over the seat as opposed to taking any risk of touching it with bare flesh.
7. Release solids, but DO NOT make any sounds whatsoever.
8. Rise and quickly flush before direct eye contact with any feces.
9. Take a length of toilet paper and fold it several times to guarantee that no residue will touch bare skin (about six applications per roll).
10. Wipe once and throw paper into the pot. Do not look at the paper.
11. Repeat steps 9 and 10 at least twenty times. It may be necessary to yell for your boyfriend/husband to find some more rolls to pass through the door while promising not to open his eyes or pass any comments. It is traditional to do this while he is trying to watch sports.
12. Flush the toilet twice, bleach it, and leave the lid in the down position for your husband/boyfriend - law in most civilized countries.
13. Wash hands at least three times with disinfectant soap.
14. Open all windows and spray approx. half-a- can of air freshener.
15. Pick up all reading material left behind by your boyfriend/husband and leave bathroom, closing the door firmly behind you.

15 Easy Steps to Shit like a Man:

1. Select reading material (can be anything except a porn-mag; tried by every man once, but never repeated - see step 4).
2. Tell everyone along the way, "Just going for a dump, okay?" Always tell girlfriend/wife in a loud voice when she has visitors.
3. Pull pants and trousers around ankles, and then sit down.
4. Adjust penis and testicles to hang without touching the toilet rim.
5. Open reading material and relax.
6. Whilst waiting, it is traditional to audibly fart.
7. Sigh loudly as the first turd bullets out. It is quite normal to experience a cold jet of water rocket up your anus as a result of the first bomb. This is to be endured /enjoyed if you want to be a real man.
8. Remain sitting and reading until pins-and-needles set in to your legs and buttocks.
9. Rise and look at turds. Make mental notes of any irregularities to report to friends and girlfriend/wife, example: color, consistency, any visible traces of peanuts/carrots etc. You MUST tell people about it.
10. Take long length of paper and wipe anus. Always look at the paper before throwing it into the pot.
11. Repeat step 10 until there is no longer any evidence of feces on the paper.
12. Flush once. If there is any residue left in the pot, on the pot or close to the rim, under no circumstances attempt to clean it off. In due course, it will come away by itself, or when your girlfriend/wife next uses the toilet.
13. Always leave the seat up. Leave the reading material on the floor (you can use it again later).
14. Wash your hands if you have time.
15. Vacate the bathroom, leaving the door wide open. It is important to a man's self-esteem that other people smell his produce.

Herman-Health Diet Plan

Having trouble increasing weight? Frightened you may be mistaken for a back? Can't feel bloated after a heavy meal? Don't feel sleepy after a meal? Want to feel hungry shortly after eating? Allergic to antacids?

Top 10 tips for eating out

1. Plan ahead. Eat breakfast, if alone, prepare two breakfasts in case the lads stop by; two sets of dirty plates – you devil you (where is she – just popped out to get your paper or have you kicked her out for good tiger?). Lunch – be careful, plan your route well. Remember a short-cut may get you to work ten minutes earlier, but MacDonalds are sited on main roads. Evenings – if you are in work early, leave early. Very few chip-shops are open after 11pm and a man can't live on curry (unless he's) alone.
2. Butter is loaded with fat and calories. Keep some to hand! Do not eat bread and crackers on their own. Bread contains a mild thermogenic "fat burner", unless consumed with fat, you could expend more calories eating than you consume and waste away.
3. Fried food – of the three food groups (red, fried and beer), fried is the most important. Fried food contains liposuckers which form a protective layer in and around the stomach. Whilst the side effect is that they create the impression of being overweight (under tall), they are the most effective means known to man of counteracting projectilevomitalis by forming an impermeable membrane over the stomachs contents.
4. Mayonnaise and oily salad dressings, should not be attempted alone and require an accompaniment; preferably a member of the opposite sex prepared to act as a conduit.
5. Rice, pasta and bread are good only for ducks. A .22 air weapon will kill most tempted within range.
6. Avoid lean meat – fat is healthy ergo, lean meat is unhealthy.
7. Creamy sauces . It is a proven fact that sauces high in oils prevent choking on sharp objects (bones) and form a surface coating on teeth ensuring they are not chipped or broken whilst eating.
8. Meat – eat it. You did not get to the top of the food chain to be consuming vegetables. Know your place and enjoy it.
9. Drink plenty of beer with your meal. To avoid an onset of gas (upset stomach) drink plenty of beer before a meal to acclimatise the stomach. After a meal, drink plenty of beer.
10. Eat in company – make them relaxed; if they cannot manage what is on their plate, ensure they are not embarrassed at having to leave the host's offering – devour it for them.

How to keep healthy levels of insanity in your life

At lunch time, sit in your parked car with sunglasses on and point a hair dryer at passing cars. See if they slow down.
Page yourself over the intercom. Don't disguise your voice.
Insist that your e mail address is: "Xena-Warrior-Princess@companyname.com" Elvis-the-King@companyname.com
Every time someone asks you to do something, ask if they want fries with that.

Develop an unnatural fear of staplers.
In the memo field of all your checks, write 'for sexual favors.'
Finish all your sentences with "In accordance with the prophecy."
Don't use any punctuation.
As often as possible, skip rather than walk.

DARWIN AWARDS: culling the herd ...

Faulty Aim Fatal

Colorado: When Gerald was pulled over for erratic driving, he decided to flee on foot, and fire a gun wildly over his shoulder at the police pursuit. His aim was no better than his driving. He shot himself in the head with his own weapon, bringing the chase -- and his life -- to a sudden conclusion.

Sneakers

Pennsylvania: An employee of a camp for juvenile delinquents was trying to remove sneakers dangling from the electric lines, when his tool -- a pocket knife taped to a fourteen-foot copper tube -- slipped and pierced the insulation. His death came as a shock to no one but himself.

Chainsaw Insurance

Italy: A poorly planned insurance scam ended in the death of a man who had persuaded his cousin to sever his leg with a chainsaw, in order to collect half a million dollars for permanent disability.

Truck Stop

Bangladesh: Six highway robbers who sought victims by blocking a bypass with their car at midnight, were crushed by a truck that was unable to stop in time. Five died, and a sixth was critically wounded. A cow was also killed in the accident.

Jet Taxi

Brazil: A 64-year-old taxi driver who sped onto the runway after dropping off his passenger at the airport, was treated to the blast of a 737 preparing for take-off. The man's tip for the fare was a broken skull and thorax.

Daredevil

United Kingdom: A man inspired by the urban building-jumping craze misjudged a 20-foot jump between car parks, and fell forty feet to land on solid concrete. A friend who was with him at the time said, "We just did stupid stuff when we were bored, like finding gaps to jump." The result was inevitable...

The Smoking Gun

Wisconsin: Two drunks were goofing around when one challenged the other to shoot him with cigarette butts to see how it felt. The target died of two cigarette butts to the head and one to the heart.

MARRIED MEN LIVE LONGER THAN SINGLE MEN. HOWEVER, MARRIED MEN ARE MORE WILLING TO DIE.

What do you call a woman who knows where her husband is every night? A widow.

How do you know that you wife may be dead ... the sex is the same, but the washing starts to pile up in the sink.

When I am dead and the mourners gather around my casket to reflect on the many wondrous things I have done in my short time on earth, do you know the one thing I would like them to say of me .... ?

'Look he's moving!'

DEATH

Two women are new arrivals at the pearly gates, and are comparing stories on how they had died.

First woman-- "I froze to death." Second woman -- "You froze to death - how horrible!" First woman-- "Well, it wasn't so bad. After I quit shaking from the cold, I began to get warm and sleepy, and finally died a peaceful death. What about you?" Second woman-- "I died of a massive heart attack. I suspected that my husband was cheating, so I came home early to catch him in the act. But instead, I found him all by himself in the den, watching TV."

First woman -- "So what happened?"

Second woman - - "I was so sure there was another woman there somewhere that I started running all over the house looking. I ran up into the attic and searched and down to the basement. Then I went through every closet and checked under every bed. I kept this up until I had looked everywhere, and finally became so exhausted that I just keeled over with a heart attack and died."

First woman-- "Too bad you didn't look in the freezer -- we'd both still be alive."

To the tune of 'Frosty the Snowman'.....

Frosty the cokehead was a crazed neurotic soul,
with a big glass pipe and a vial of crack,
and no sense of self control.

There must have been some poison in that last dime back he got,
for when he took his first big hit he dropped dead on the spot.

Frosty the cokehead doesn't worry anymore,
cause when all's been said, and your cold, stone dead,
then you never have to score.

Rome did not create a great empire by having meetings, they did it by killing all those who opposed them.

LAST WORD

Whenever I think of the past, it brings back so many memories...

Two Little Boys
(to the tune of the same song – by Rolf Harris)

Two little boys had two little toys
A whistle and a uniform blue,
And when they were three, it was plain to see
What they'd grow up to be ...

CHORUS:

Did you think I would leave you lying
When I can lie my arse off too
If somebody squawks in the witness box
I'll cover up for you
We can tell a pack of lies,
Pull the wool over their eyes
Just like the sergeant taught us to
And before you count to three,
We'll be off scott-free*
We're two little boys in blue

Now the station Sergeant said
Before you tuck them into bed

Before you take their cocoa through
You can kick them in the balls
Bash their heads against the walls
But don't leave them black and blue
So if you're walking down the street and you see them on their beat
Here's a piece of advice for you;
Don't trust you luck
Just run like .... crazy

Or you'll be a prisoner
too

CHORUS

time flies
like an arrow, fruit flies like bananas.

Just like the Severn Bridge
toll booth operators, MP
Hayes members should be willing to accept change.

*unofficial spokesperson @ MP Hayes would like to make it clear that the reference to Scott-
free should in no way
be construed as an adverse inference about our Northern neighbours. We do not believe, or promote a belief, that the Country is populated by the criminally inclined who are prone to misrepresentation and only walking the streets due to an ability to abuse the Scottish legislative and prosecution services.
